WARREN G. HARDING

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

WARREN, OHIO

foreword

This year Jet, the spirit of Harding High School, appointed himself as a one-man committee to keep a journal telling all that would happen. Jet's Journal is not one of the ordinary type though, for he recorded the events in pictures. You may not have seen him slip into your classrooms, dances, games, or plays, but he was always there with his notebook and camera. Jet affectionately watched the hesitant sophomores enter, the enthusiastic juniors find their place in school life, and the hopeful seniors leave his beloved home.

Miss Emily Kaufman

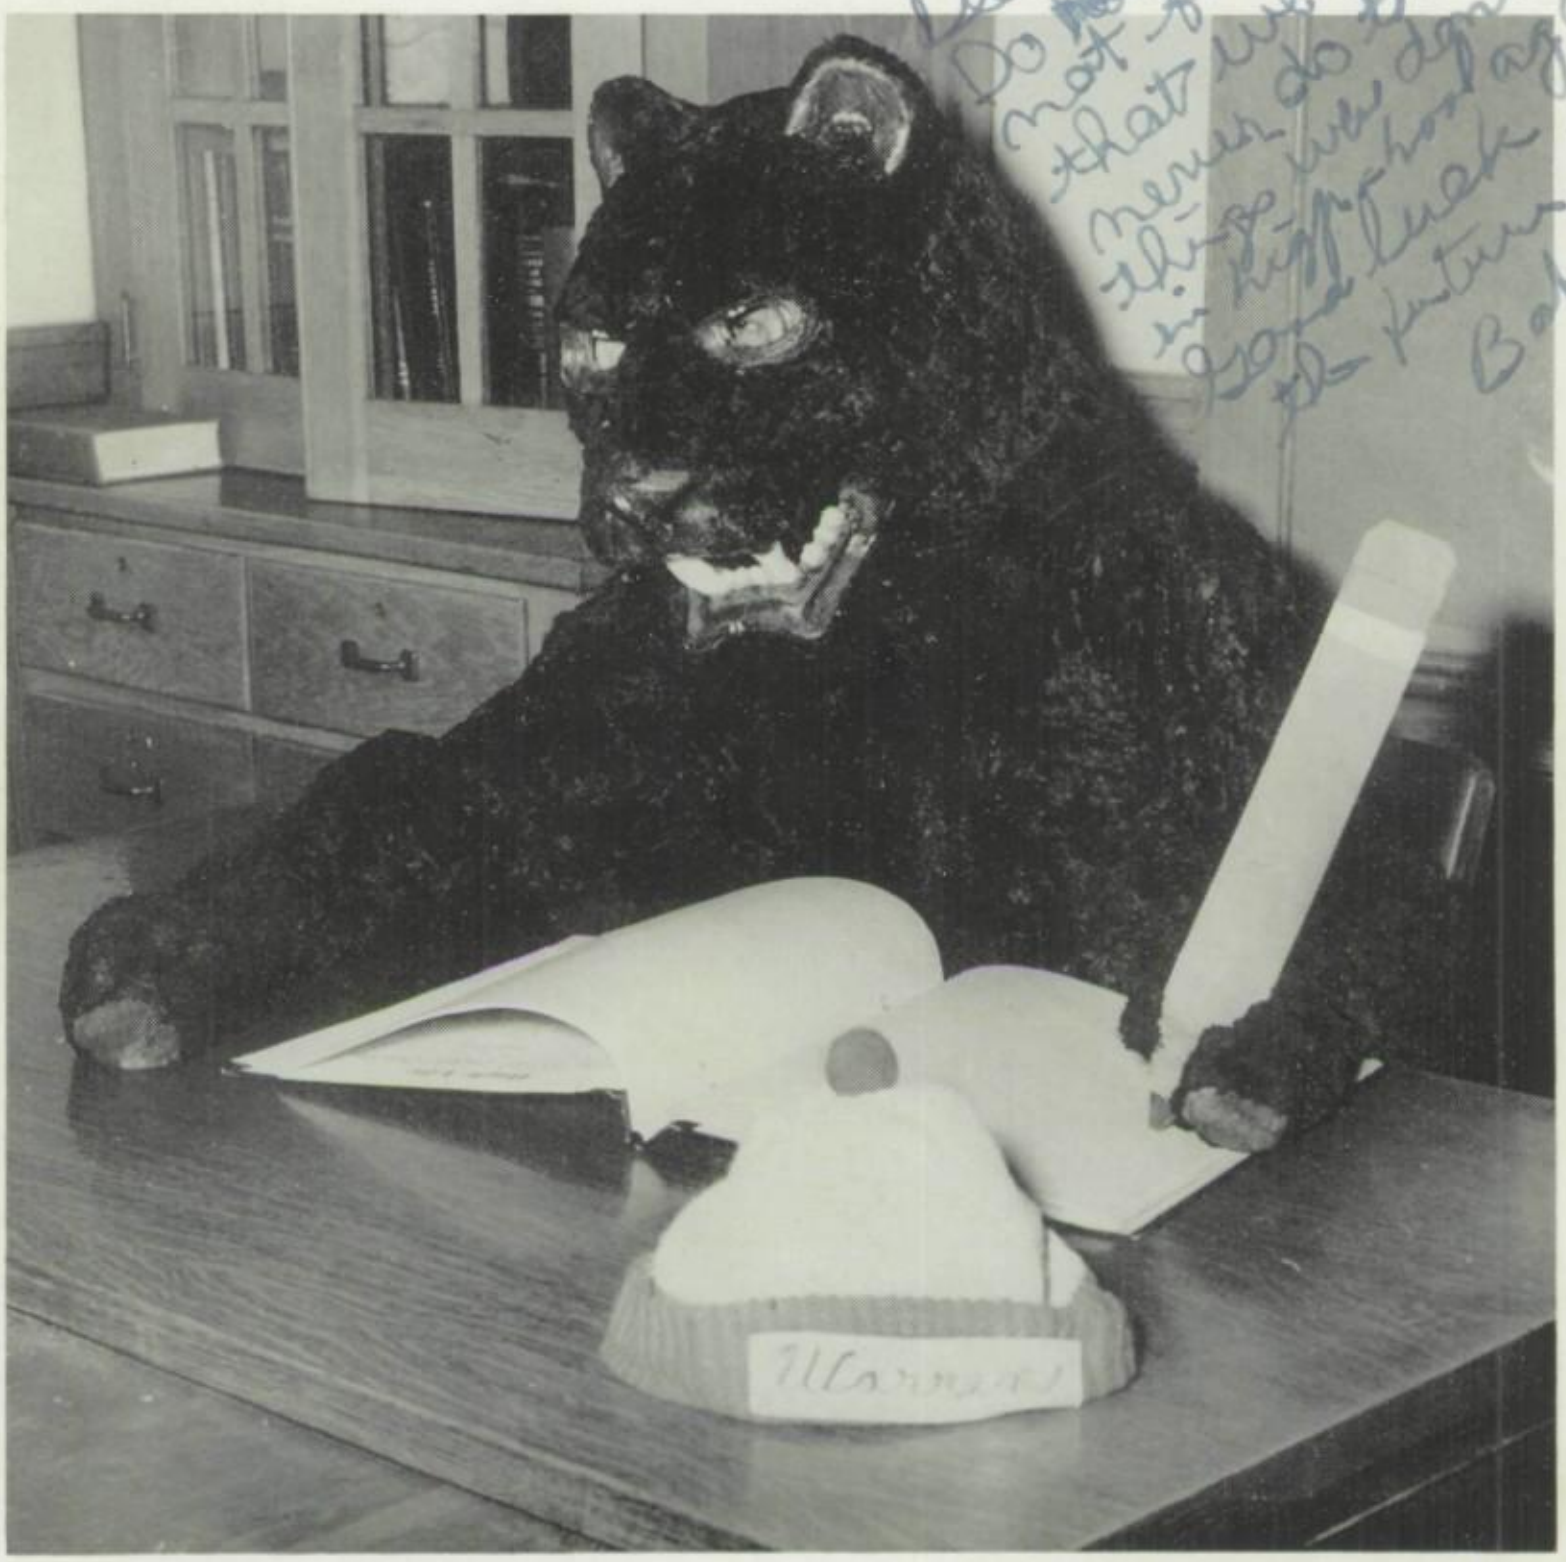
As a teacher of English literature, Miss Kaufman will always be remembered for the stress she puts upon the desire for learning and the importance of knowledge. I've seen her after school in room 203 staying to give special help in English and to counsel students concerning any school difficulty. I've ridden unnoticed in the car on one of her trips to an out-of-town football game or to a week-end Echoes party at Cook Forest.

For twenty-one years she sponsored the Echoes. Her constant work with the staff has made it possible for the students to recall the former life at Harding High School. Although she is no longer the sponsor, her efforts in the past have laid the foundation for this yearbook and those to come.

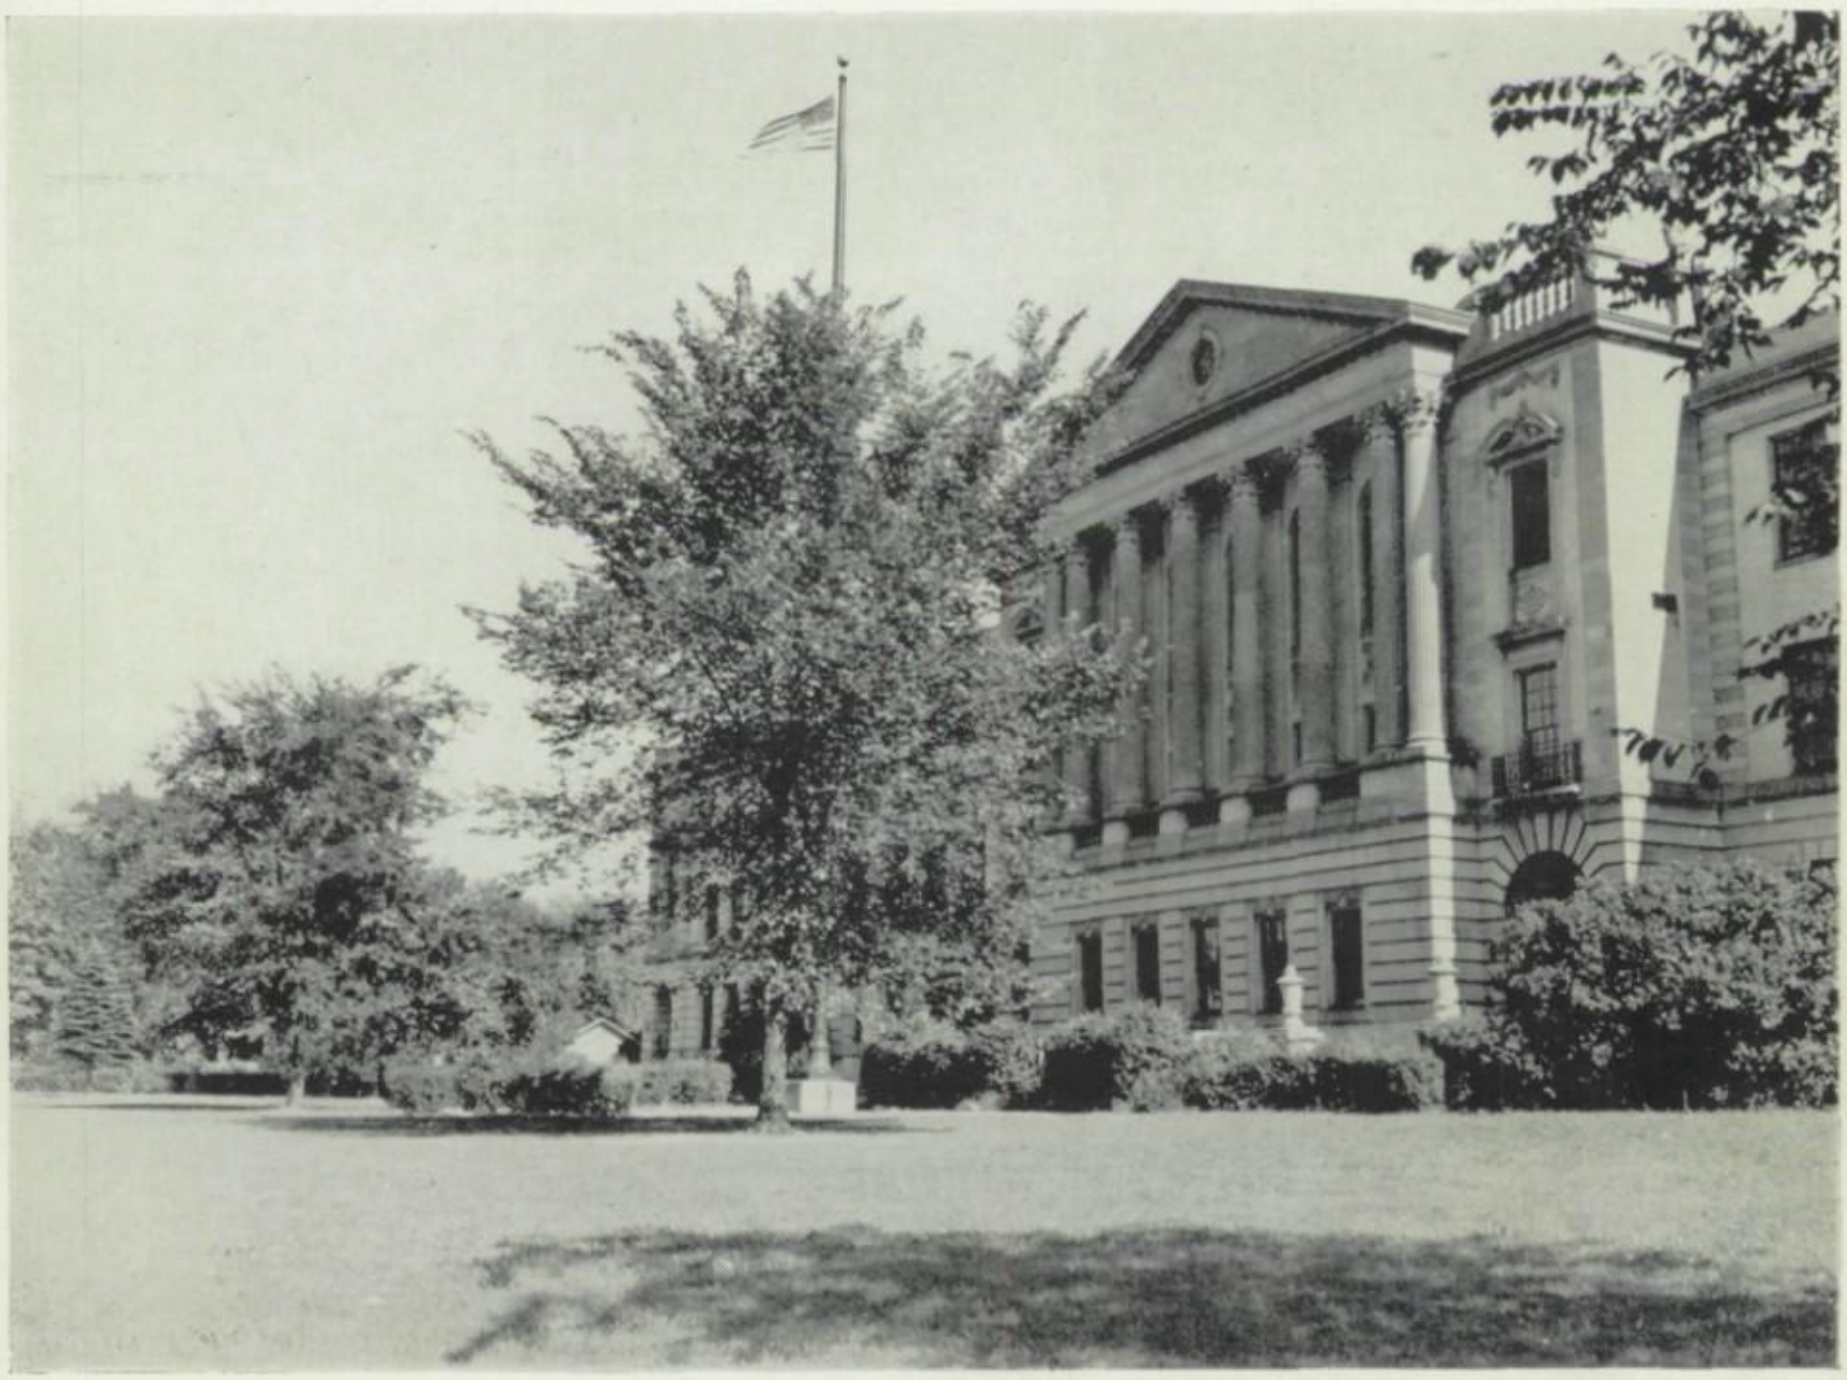
To Miss Emily Kaufman, this journal is dedicated.

On September 3, 1952

Jet makes the first entry in his record of the year's activities even before classes resume. Early on the morning of registration, he opens his journal and with his pencil in hand, prepares to keep an accurate account of all the departments of the school.



1380 students came here



to enroll for classes

The first day of school at Warren G. Harding is one of the busiest days of the year. Armed with blank schedule cards, copies of the schedule, enrollment instructions, and choice cards approved by his homeroom teacher, the student begins the long process of registering for the new semester. When his schedule card is complete, he returns to homeroom and takes his place in the long line waiting to be checked out.

The schedule cards roll in and are alphabetized for the office files. When the long day ends, students and teachers are tired, but they eagerly await the next day and their new classes.

10B reception

Becoming a member of the senior high student body is a thrilling event in any 10B life. Each student imagines what his three years of studies and activities will hold for him as he gets acquainted with his new classmates at the sophomore reception.

This assembly, which also acquaints the newcomer with his homeroom teacher and the school, is under the direction of Miss Marie O'Rourke, dean of girls, Louis Swart, dean of boys, the Student Council and Booster Club presidents.

A few days later, Dr. Miller meets the class and helps to further orient them in the customs and regulations of the school.

One of the decisions made by the Board of Education was the addition of a director of instruction, Dr. Hammond. Among his other duties in connection with the curriculum, he was instrumental in establishing a weekly school radio series on WHHH.

the principals

For any problem, a solution is available at the office of Milton Mollenkopf. As Harding's principal he is known as an understanding friend, a fine sport, and an encouraging counselor. "Mollie" is aided by our assistant principal, O. A. Lovett. He could well be nick-named "The Voice," for day by day he keeps us well-informed over the P. A. His smooth management of assembly programs and his participation in Hi-Y activities make him well-loved at Harding.

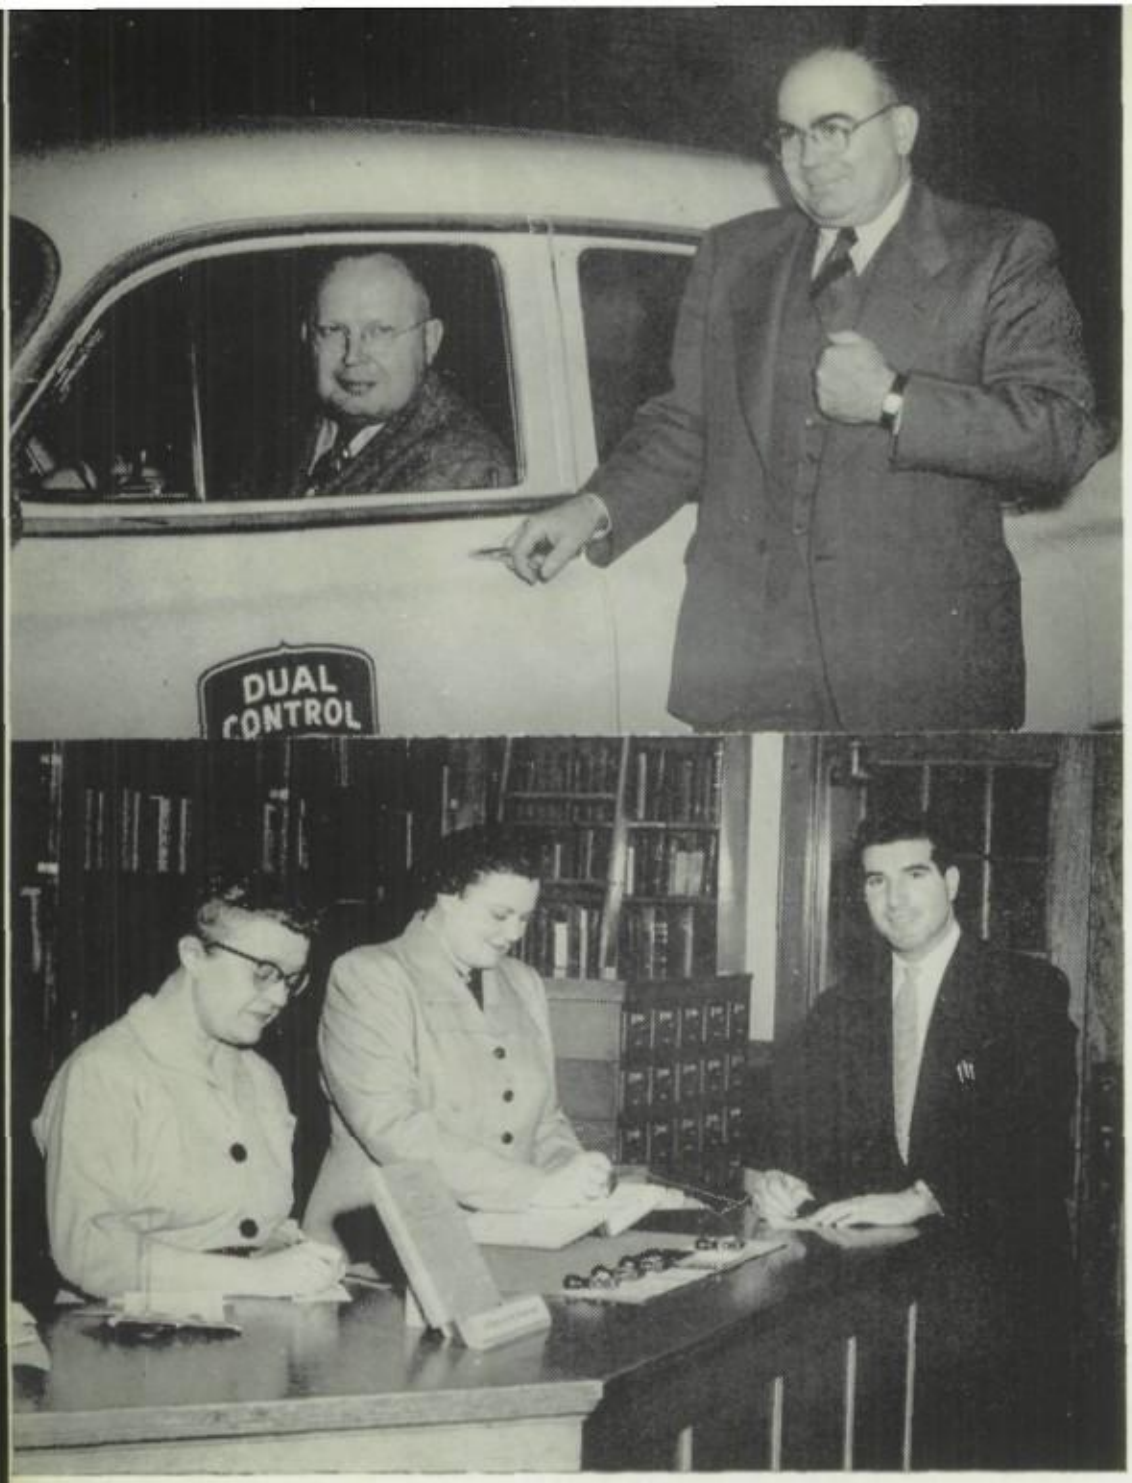
the deans

The office of Miss Marie O'Rourke, the dean of girls, is open to students at all hours of the day. Her benign smile greets everyone who goes in to see her, from the student who seeks advice about the future to the one with a current question. In addition to her other duties, she dispenses first aid and sponsors the National Honor Society.

An active member of the faculty is Louis Swart, the dean of boys. In addition to being a real friend to boys in distress, he is a co-sponsor of National Honor Society, sponsor of Radio Club, and a Naval Reserve officer.



JOEL YOST, bookkeeping, stops to chat with HARRY TAFT in the driving car. TONY MARCARELLO, economics, checks a book out of the library with the assistance of GERALDINE KERR and RUTH WATKINS. WILLIAM NOVELLI, botany, is given a play ticket by FLORENCE NEWTON, math, while MRS. RUTH VAN METRE, math selects another from the board. GERTRUDE LYNN and DOROTHY HART, social studies, look over the ballots during the Hi-Eco-Sy mock election.

HAROLD C. HULME

One familiar face was missing from among the teachers—that of Harold C. Hulme, who was loved and respected by all who knew him.

As botany teacher, Mr. Hulme was also the sponsor of the Phytons. He was a promoter of the Arbor Day programs and tree planting at the Arboretum.

Mr. Hulme worked untiringly with his students. He regularly took them on instructive trips all over the country. There are many boys who will cherish the memories of Christmas vacation trips to Florida and Cuba; and summer tours through the West. His footprints will be followed by few. His spirit will never leave the corridors of Harding High School, or his beloved work.

campaign opens activities

The Activity Ticket sales campaign went over with a bang as five hundred and eighty-eight tickets were sold by the three teams. The Green Team, headed by Lois Harter, was victorious in selling the most tickets. The Pink Team, headed by Donna Finta and Marlyn Howell, and the White Team, headed by William Shuttic, gave the winners a close race.

All those who sold seven or more tickets attended the annual picnic at Camp Chickagami.

A few of the activities which were presented in the puppet show which opened the campaign.

football time arrived

The Harding High Panthers successfully opened the 1952 season by downing the Collinwood eleven, 14-0, before a crowd of 6,000. The fans saw Enoch Chaney pounce on a fumble on the three-yard line in the fading moments of the first quarter. A play later, fullback Nick Angelo crashed over for the first score of the game, with Dom Venetta adding the extra point.

John Smith intercepted a Railroader pass on their 38-yard line late in the fourth quarter and returned it to the Cleveland 20. The Panthers were held for two downs, and then a 15-yard holding penalty put Harding on the 35.

Jim Rogers took a pitch-out, started for the Warren bench, then stopped and threw a long pass across the field to Jack Vair, who took the ball on the two and went into the end zone for the Panthers' second score. Dom Venetta split the uprights again and wrapped up the scoring for the evening.

The Harding gridders outclassed the Canton Bulldogs for the second straight year, 29-19. The first touchdown drive was a well-balanced attack with both passing and running. The Panthers ran the ball to the 46 before Merolla fumbled and lost the ball. Warren held the Bulldogs, forcing them to punt out to Warren's 33.

Angelo, Merolla, and Rogers then alternated the ball to the 46, where Jim Seem took over. He threw two quick passes to Rogers and Vair to advance the Panthers to the 12-yard line. Then Merolla hit the line for five yards, followed by Jim Rogers, who took the ball over for Warren's first touchdown.

The Bulldogs, taking over on their 23, alternated the ball up to Harding's 34 in nine plays. Then a 30-yard pass from Abbert to Sheeler accounted for Canton's first score. But Harding's line was able to keep their team in the lead by blocking the extra point, making a half-time score of Warren 7, Canton 6.

The third quarter began with the Panthers scoring, but being called back because of illegal motion. This was the only scoring until the fourth quarter when Salvi Merolla blasted through the line for a touchdown. Harding's next touchdown was set up when Jim Riffle blocked a Canton punt and Bob Maniatis recovered. Five plays later Preston handed off to Rogers at the one-yard line for Harding's third score. Dom Venetta then added his third extra point, making it 23-6.

Goodrich fumbled and Simmons pounced on the ball to give it to Warren on the 28-yard line. Preston and Seem combined to put the ball on the two and Preston carried it over for the score, making it 29-6. Venetta missed the placement.

John Goodrich took the kick-off to his 36 and on the next play, broke loose on a 64-yard touchdown jaunt. Nagy blocked the extra point, making it 29-12. Canton then closed the scoring with Burles taking a pass on the 15 and scoring the touchdown. Cole kicked the extra point.

The Harding Panthers were held scoreless for the first time in 33 games by the Cleveland Benedictine Bengals, 7-0. Five costly fumbles, three intercepted passes and overthrown passes were the cause of Harding's first set-back for the 1952 season.

D. Preston makes a short gain in the East Tech game.

S. Merolla goes for his second touchdown against East Tech.

J. Rogers is held up in a try for "pay dirt" at Massillon.

J. Vair pushes ahead for a gain against Toledo Waite.

The Panthers were unable to gain any momentum during the game to get them started. Their one threat was spiked by an intercepted pass at the 31-yard line.

Nick Angelo fumbled on the 14 and set up the only score for the Bengals, with Steve Chernicky sweeping his right end for 10 yards. Konkoly added the extra point. The Benedictine eight-man line held Warren to a net gain of 58 yards, resulting in Harding's worst performance of the season.

The Harding High Panthers displayed a complete reversal of the previous week's performance by handily defeating the Mansfield Tygers, 34-12. The Panthers really snapped out of their defeat at the hands of Cleveland Benedictine by scoring five touchdowns and completely outclassing the Tygers.

Bob Barbutes gave the first indication of a fine offense by smashing through the line for 40 yards in the second play of the game. Rogers, Merolla and Barbutes alternated the ball to the 10 with Salvi Merolla carrying it over for the touchdown. Dom Venetta place-kicked the extra point. Right after Harding's first touchdown, Eddie Mach swept around his right end and scampered 70 yards for the touchdown on Mansfield's third play from scrimmage.

Warren's speedsters, "Rookie" Rogers, Salvi Merolla and Bob Barbutes, provided the Panthers with the most balanced running attack in several seasons. Jim Rogers provided the Panthers with three touchdown runs of 23 and 52 yards, and he gathered in an eight-yard pass from Jim Seem to end the scoring for the night.

Harding tallied in the first and third quarters against Campbell Memorial to cop their fourth victory and first shut-out of the season. Rogers and Merolla were given the scoring honors for the game. "Rookie" Rogers blasted 34 yards early in the first quarter to give Warren a 6-0 lead. Venetta added the extra point.

After this Campbell's defense tightened up to hold the Panthers until the fourth quarter. Then again in the fourth quarter the Panthers livened up to score their final touchdown of the game.

Warren's defense looked the best of the season as the line held Campbell to 88 yards gained while the Panthers got a total of 297 yards through a stubborn Campbell line.

The Harding High Panthers gained their fifth victory by downing Cleveland Loyal fans send the team to Massillon with high hopes.

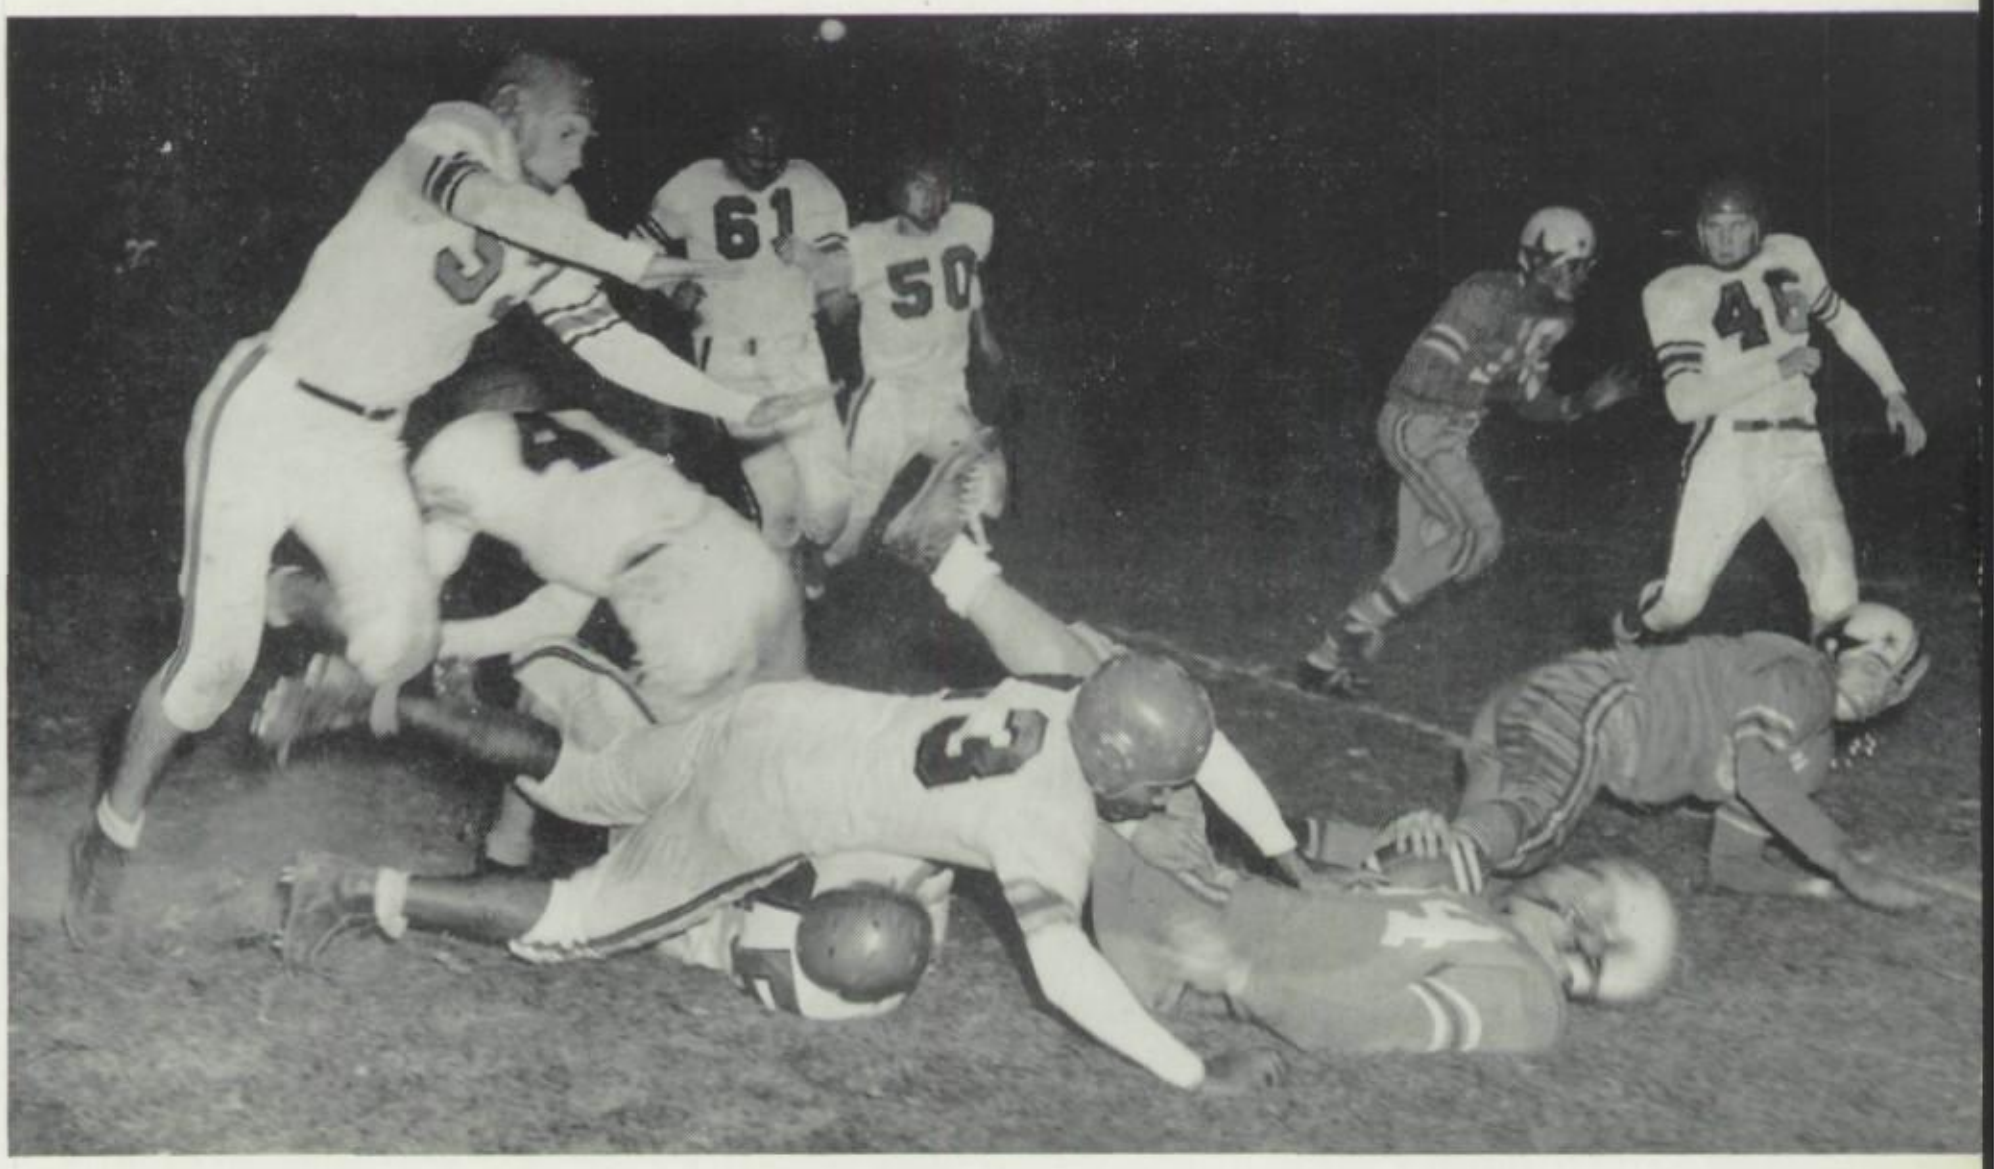
East Tech, 20-7, before a homecoming crowd of about 3,500. Although Harding limited the East Tech backs to only 60 yards on the ground, the Panthers' pass defense posed a dangerous threat throughout the game. Harding gained 334 yards on the ground while the Panthers defense limited East Tech to 54 yards.

Bob Barbutes smashed over from the three on the seventh play of the first period. Dom Venetta added the extra point. Salvi Merolla sparked a drive for the next touchdown and carried the ball over from the eight-yard line for Harding's second touchdown. Venetta's placement was wide. Dick Goldner set up Warren's final touchdown by recovering a fumble on Tech's 32. Then Merolla crashed through to the three for a 29-yard gain. Maniatis went over but the play was called back. Maniatis then went over for the marker from the nine and Venetta made the extra point.



A fine display of the Panthers' terrific defensive playing sparked their contest against Hamilton.

A Krusinski to Cofield pass covered 25 yards for Tech's lone touchdown. "Big Ben" Suger added the extra point. Warren had two touchdowns called back because of motion and offside penalties and this was the end of Harding's scoring. Warren's rushing average is now 262 yards per game.

Massillon, still smarting from the drubbing Warren gave them in 1951, unleashed their terrific defensive play to halt Warren, 31-0. Warren failed to capitalize on three breaks which put them deep in Massillon territory. Nussbaum, Massillon's fullback, opened the Tigers' attack in the second quarter with a 22-yard run which gave them a chance to follow up and score. Taylor took the spotlight when he galloped 56 yards for the Tigers, to score their second touchdown.

Warren got up steam in the third quarter when Merolla returned the kickoff to the 42. Rogers and Merolla then alternated the ball to the Massillon 43 before they were stopped.

COACHES:
G. Johnson, E. Peaspanen, M. Marcarello, C. Riffle

Again in the third quarter Massillon opened up their offense to score three touchdowns. This clinched the game for them and strengthened their hold on the mythical state championship.

Despite the 31-0 set-back the Panthers received the week before from the Massillon Tigers, they were ready to stop the Hamilton Big Blue. Salvi Merolla scored the game's only touchdown in the third period.

Although Merolla was the only scorer, Jim Hilles grabbed the spotlight with his terrific running attack. Hilles, who made his varsity debut in the third quarter of the game, continued his fine running into the final moments of the game to give him 76 out of Harding's 211 net yards gained.

Salvi Merolla also continued his steady running throughout the game to end up with 58 yards gained.

The Harding High Panthers displayed their best all-around brand of football before about 5,000 fans to crush the Steubenville Big Red on their home field, 25-6. The game was highlighted by a consistent ground attack and a stubborn defense featuring sparkling runs and fine passing.

Jim Hilles' running and his fine receiving were supported by the good running and defensive play of Salvi Merolla. Hilles scored twice, once on a four-yard sprint around right end and on a 46-yard pass which he took in the end zone.

Jim Rogers appeared in the game and sparked the team to the one-foot line with Bob Barbutes crashing over for the score. Dom Venetta added the extra point. The Warren backs then intercepted a pass and put the ball on the 30. Then Warren subs took the ball to the 10 with Preston scoring. During the game all the players Warren took with them got a chance to play.

Harding jolted Toledo Waite, 46-7, for their eighth victory of the season. Salvi Merolla scored half of Harding's touchdowns while keeping up his terrific running attack. Salvi's longest run of the game was a 54-yard dash through tackle for Warren's second touchdown.

Soon after this Jim Seem hit Jack Vair with a five-yard aerial and Vair raced 42 yards only to be stopped on the one-yard line. On the next play Vair carried the ball around the end to score.

Dave Preston also took scoring honors with two touchdowns to his credit. His first was a 60-yard blast through the line and his second, which came only 80 seconds later, was when he intercepted a Toledo pass and galloped 32 yards to score.

Toledo's only score was in the final moments of the game when McNeil scored after a 77-yard march.

The Alliance Aviators, featuring Len Dawson, were outclassed by the Harding Panthers in the mud and rain before 3,000 fans. Len Dawson got off nine passes and completed four, as the Warren pass defense looked the best of the season.

The game started off with a tremendous kick by Dom Venetta to the Alliance one-yard line. Dawson then engineered the longest pass of the night to Alton for fifteen yards. This started the Aviators on a drive that was not finished until Barnett went over from the three for the touchdown, with Dawson adding the extra point.

Warren went 61 yards in eight plays with Barbutes, Rogers, and Merolla doing the toting. Salvi Merolla, whose play throughout the season was brilliant, carried the ball over for the touchdown and Venetta added the extra point, making the score 7-7.

Early in the fourth period Merolla intercepted a Dawson pass at the Warren 11 and made a fine runback of 34 yards, putting it on the 45.

Then the whole Warren team came alive and gave the Warren backs fine interference. Jim Seem crashed over from the one for Harding's final score of the season, ending the game at 14-7.

sophomores went partying

The cafeteria was the scene of the first social event of the year when the 10A's entertained for the incoming sophomores. Over 400 students enjoyed dancing, a floor show featuring 10A talent, and refreshments provided through the generosity of the Student Council. Homeroom teachers assisted committees in plans for the affair, as sponsors are chosen just about this time and do not have much opportunity to supervise the class activities until they become better acquainted with their group.

Hosts and hostesses met parents and conducted them to their children's classrooms. Many rooms overflowed, as Mrs. Webb's Latin class did.

parents came to open house

The annual night session to give parents an opportunity to see the classes in action brought over three hundred guests to the school. Assisting the administration was a Student Council Committee.

One of the many classes which the parents visited was Miss Malmsberry's English class, which breaks up into committees when discussing business letters.

classes in action

The students get real enjoyment in their classes in a variety of ways. Mr. Kemp's journalism students presented a program on sports for the school radio series over station WHHH; a study of transportation enlivened Miss Partridge's English-history core class; Mrs. McCurdy's students enjoyed playing a rhythm game in French, and Miss Ridgley's classes put on plays in English class as a few of the highlights.

help for homemakers

Modern home economics courses are not limited to cooking and sewing. Harding girls, and a few boys, have found catering a worthwhile supplement to foods. A professional decorator, Mr. Hays, demonstrated the technique of making a cake beautiful for Miss Simons' students.

Two attractive new courses are the child care class and the home nursing course taught by Miss Baxter and Mrs. Hill.

Practicing actual machine shop techniques became more interesting to Mr. Hammond's boys when they received their state charter as a Vocational Industrial Club. They named their chapter for the retired instructor, William Old, who established the vocational program in addition to the other machine shop classes.

Future cabinet-makers turn out many valuable articles in Mr. Kraker's wood shop. These not only provide experience in wood working but they also grace many of the boys' homes.

When they take their places on their high stools with their drawing boards in front of them, neatness and precision are of major importance to the students of Mr. Gass' mechanical drawing classes.

All students in trigonometry class look forward to the day when it's their turn to survey. They measure such heights as the gymnasium, the auditorium, the flagpole and the shops. Many distances are also calculated by the students.

COMING INDUSTRIALISTS

The Industrial Arts fellows take trips to see how factories and shops function.

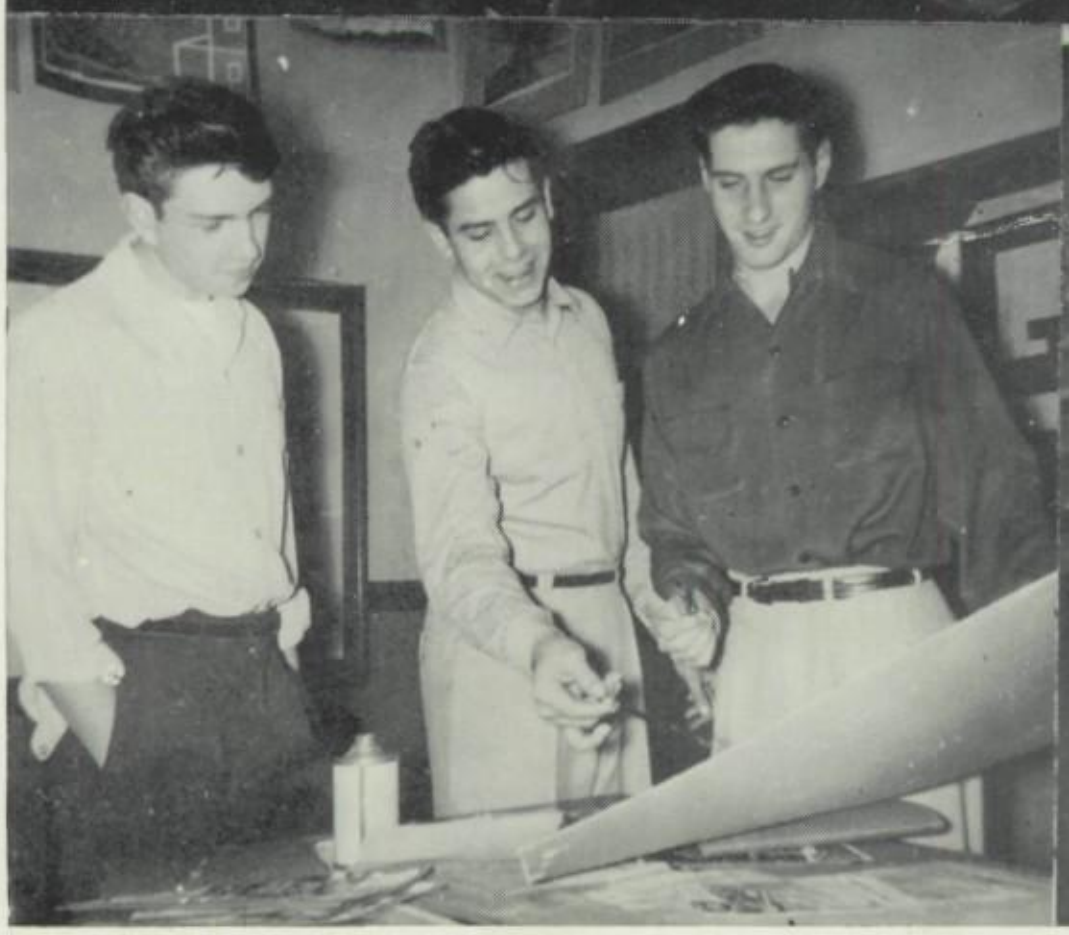
President,1.



Mrs. Nilson's civics class studies from the "American Observer" and absorbs some knowledge because test time will soon be here.

Under the skillful guidance of Mr. Fusselman and with paints, colors, and pencils, pictures come to life in art class.

The rules are enforced and the halls are kept quiet by the monitors, who are on duty each hour of the day.

homecoming

The 1952 homecoming festivities were highlighted by the crowning of Phyllis Holland before the Cleveland East Tech - Warren Harding game. The queen was accompanied to her throne and crowned by Ray Wagoner, Boosters Club president. The attendants were Marilyn Howell, escorted by Jack Vair, Lettermen's president, and Mary Fallone, escorted by Robert Hood, student body president. Upon arriving at their specially made box seats, the queen opened the game by throwing the ball to Jack Vair.

The next night, the Lettermen sponsored the annual homecoming dance. Dressed in formals and carrying lovely bouquets, the procession, led by Mary Fallone and Robert Hood, moved to the throne where Jack Vair re-crowned Phyllis Holland, queen of the 1952 Homecoming.

levy leaders

Vote for the Three Mill Levy! This was a familiar cry preceding the November election. In the annual Hallowe'en parade, various clubs and classes made floats to boost it, while others plugged the schools with signs and appropriate characters. The June Class of '53 won the Chamber of Commerce prize with their jet plane.

RALLIES HIGHLIGHT THE FOOTBALL SEASON

the juniors got busy

The first real activity of the junior classes was the traditional Junior Mix. Here they co-operated to give the school a wonderful dance and a gaily decorated game room where students were found pitching pennies, throwing darts at bulging multi-colored balloons, or having their fortune told by a mysterious gypsy woman. Delicious cakes and crunchy cookies were sold by girls dressed in the costumes of many nations.

Students were greeted by teachers who sold the tickets to the dance. Those who participated in dance numbers of the floor show include: standing, Jayne Vogan, Jeanie Mounts, Jane Roehl, and Donna Thompson; kneeling, Donna Rae Williams, and Jean Madar. Door prizes went to Frank Laprocina and George Miller, shown with Andy Stankewich and Stan Walker. Joanne Burkett performed on roller skates.

"... trippingly on the tongue ..."

An impressive Armistice Day assembly was staged by the Speakers Bureau. The program centered around a burial ground of men who had given their lives in the three periods: World War I, World War II, and Korea.

As the curtain drew to a close, people from all walks of life were standing side by side, pledging allegiance to the flag of our country. This is one of the many services the Speakers perform for the school and community.

One of the new organiations recently started in our school is the National Thespian Society. Any Dramatic Club member who has had one major or two minor roles of at least 80 lines, or has helped backstage in two plays is eligible for membership. Here some of the charter members of the Thespian Troupe No. 1249 read the charter and sign the membership roll.

"THE CURIOUS SAVAGE"

The title of the Dramatics Club production did not refer to an uncivilized person, but to any member of the Savage family. The cast included L. Herman, B. Beleny, G. Miller, P. Mahay, J. MacPherson, J. DeCato, J. Sexauer, R. Ohl, J. Killinen, T. St. Clair, F. Cline, and L. Cline.

"OUT OF THE FRYING PAN"

The March play of the Dramatics club left the audience laughing, as the cast got out of one scrape and into another. Members of the cast were: S. Gregory, R. Johnson, L. Cline, S. Kersten (on couch), S. Walker, D. Lynn, R. Ohl, J. Roscoe, T. St. Clair, L. Herman, J. Moore, B. Foulk.

martin-lewis selections

The High Life big twenty-page Christmas edition featured Donald Mackey as Hap Holiday and Lois Harter as Miss Mary Christmas. They were chosen by the two wonderful comedians, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, according to the tradition of having celebrities act as judges. The runners-up were Sally Risher and John Hollingshead.

christmas windows

Townspeople passing the school at night during the holidays were thrilled by the stained glass designs reflected in the library windows.

The sophomore geometry classes of Miss Troxell and Mrs. Van Metre contributed geometric designs for the library office windows and for two large ones in the reading room. The nativity scene was depicted by Mrs. Knox's first period English class, while Miss Duck's classes chose story themes for their window decorations. Miss Bess Tubaugh's home arts class made pictures using onion skin and crayons to create a beautiful balanced effect.

Even the doors of the library received special treatment from the students in Miss Partridge's classes.

hi-y takes the spotlight

"The Other Wise Man" was recreated by the Hi-Y boys for the annual Christmas assembly with J. Riffle in the title role. J. Sexauer was the narrator for the dramatization.

tinsel twirl

The annual Christmas formal is a dance to which all the girls who belong to Y-Teens look forward. It is customary that each year they vote on a girl who will reign as queen at the dance.

The Y. W. C. A. gym was gaily decorated for the Tinsel Twirl at which Faith Gibson was crowned by Marilyn Howell, the All-Club president.

Attendants, chosen in the customary voting by Y-Teen members to select the queen of the dance, were Margaret Mounts, Nancy Heron, the queen, Ruth Cox, Faith Gibson, and Ann Myers.

y-teens mix work with play

The girls who belong to the Y-Teens are a vital asset to the Y. W. C. A. and the community. Among their activities they sell peanut crunch, serve at dinners for such organizations as Community Fund, Red Cross and Church groups, send articles to teen-age girls in foreign countries, and learn ways of improving their clubs through Y-Teen summer conferences.

winter brought basketball

The 1952 Harding Hoopsters followed the performance of the 1951 squad. They were victorious in three games out of twenty and these three were in the first semester.

Victories over Newton Falls, Southington and the Alumni were the wins registered by the Panthers.

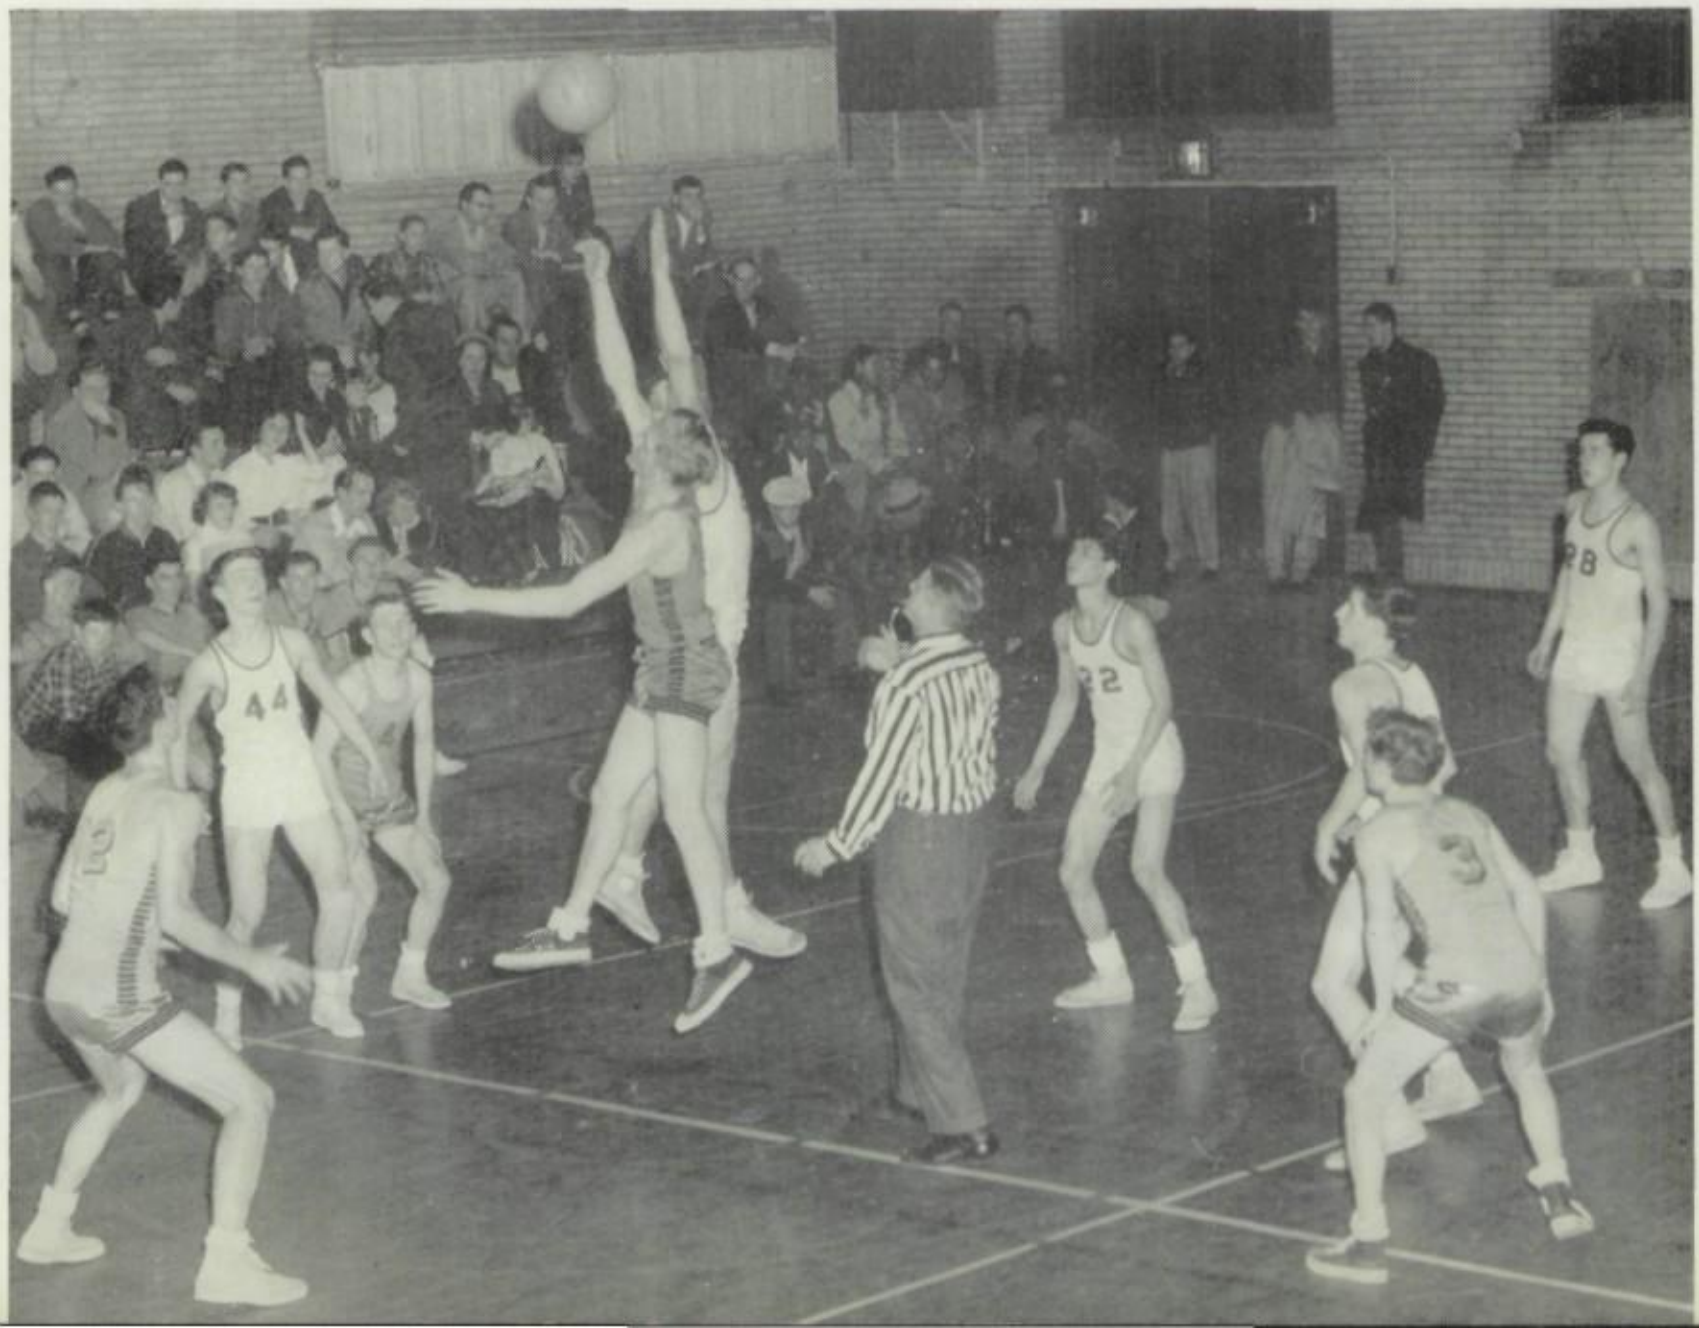
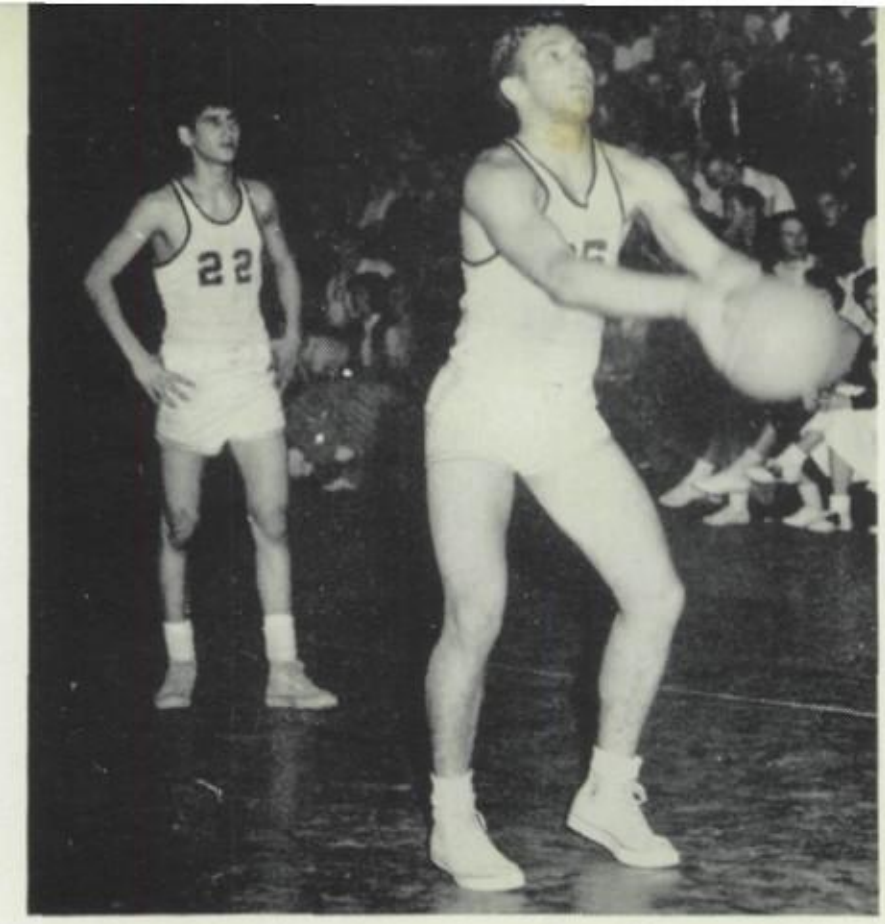
This way—are the shouts of Luoma's teammates as they watch for the ball to come their way.





Eyes forward—as M. Delaquila watches W. Luoma drop in a foul shot.

Although the Panther basketball players never hit their stride, they had a team that was capable of devastating many good ball clubs, but the team never seemed to click. This was a green team composed mainly of juniors and sophomores with Bill Luoma, Mike Delaquila, Wendell Chance and Gene Del Garbino the only seniors on the roster.

At the beginning of the year the seniors did a large part of the hardwood chores, but as the season wore on, Coach Dwight Lafferty found it necessary to rely on his junior and sophomore stalwarts as well as a good bit of help from the reserve squad. The team was bolstered by this fine group of juniors: Mike and Jim Boyazis, Richard Berry, Bob Pearson, Pete Rossi, Bruce Armstrong, Alex Nagy and Freddy Burrows. John Smith, Don Zerial and Len Redmond were the sophomores who provided the fans with plenty of fast action.

When the season was over, John Smith, a sophomore, who stepped from the gridiron and his line backing chores into a starting position for the Harding hoopsters, was high point man for the Panthers. John, dubbed "Smut," poured 222 points through the hoop to lead the Panthers.

Bob Pearson, a junior, was the closest to Smith; he meshed 195 to be second in the scoring.

The Laffertymen had a hectic season with losses to teams by only a slim margin of one or two points and making it seem as though Warren was not very well represented. Finally, when the Harding fans got behind the team, it was already tournament time and it was too late to help bolster the hoopsters during the regular season.

When Warren played the Mansfield Tygers, lack of enthusiasm was evident all through the game. When the Panthers got hot and tied up the game at 73-73 in the final few minutes, they seemed to cool off and couldn't hit a shot in the overtime.

When the fans did come to life in the tournament, their spirit was a decisive factor in the team's winning and that night the team was really on the ball. The Panthers won the first game in the tournament by defeating the Rayen Tigers by a score of 53-44, making the Warren fans jubilant.

In the second tournament game the Panthers were defeated by the Chaney Cowboys, 80-57, with Sam Stapanovich breaking the tournament record by scoring 40 points.

At mid-season Bill Luoma and Mike Delaquila graduated and left Coach Lafferty to begin anew. The team began to mould very well and by the end of the season there were five boys on the hardwood who were still a little green but were coming along nicely. Next year Mr. Lafferty will have the majority of the boys back, and he will be able to base his team around some of his junior and sophomore stars like John Smith, Dick Berry, Don Zerial and the Boyazis brothers.

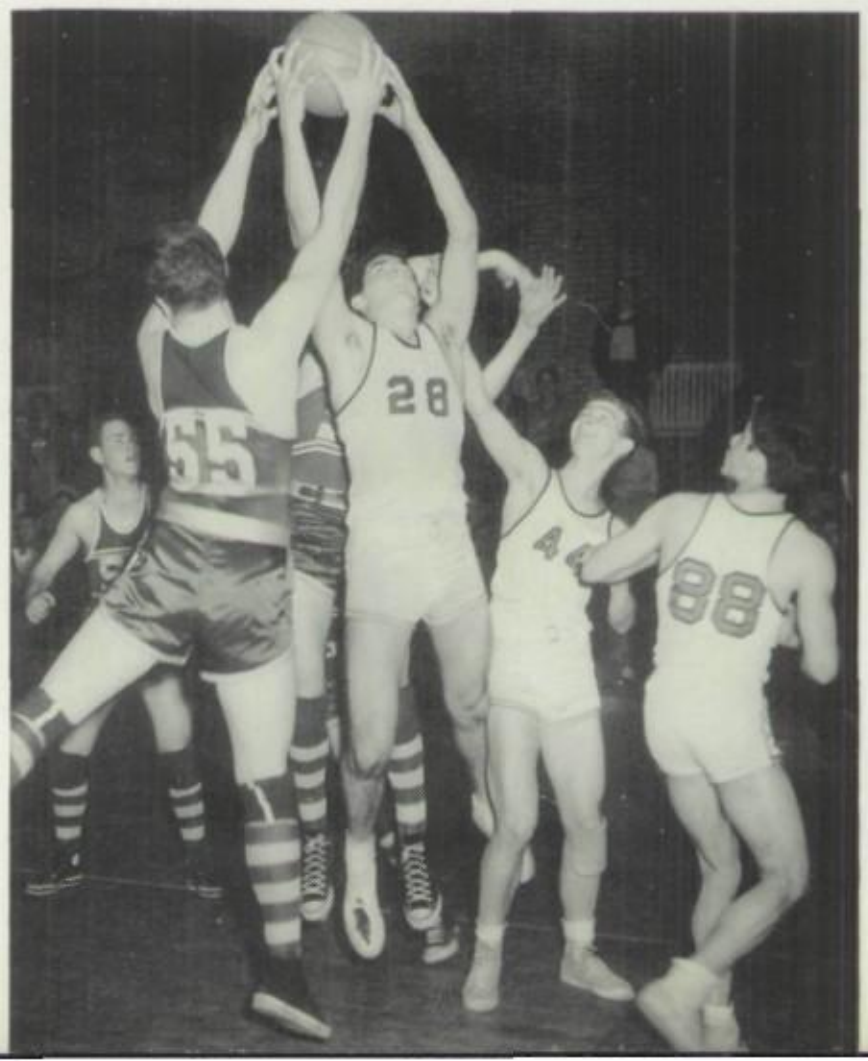
When the season rolled around, Mr. Lafferty had bright cage prospects but something happened; the boys didn't seem to have the winning spirit. When the Panther fans got behind the team, they found that the Harding cagers did win a few games.

Although the season record was not the best ever recorded by a Harding team, it can be said that those boys realized what good sportsmanship really means.



Reaching high is J. Smith, of the Harding backboard boys.

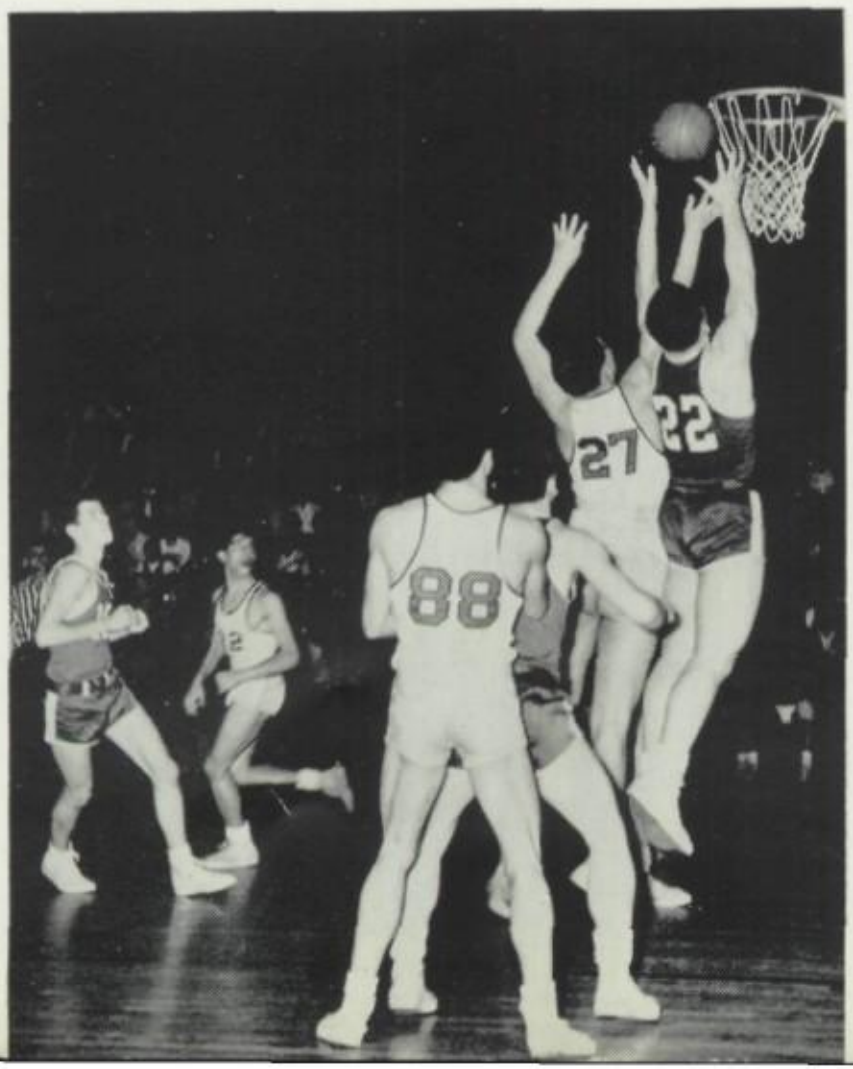
Bending back, M. Boyazis is working in a one-hand shot.

The Reserves enjoyed a fine season of ten victories and seven defeats, with some of the defeats being only of one or two points. Coach Lewis Kemp's crew set a new scoring record of 904 points, breaking the old record of 827 points made by the 1949-50 team. At the outset of the season the Reserves were unsuccessful in their first two encounters, but then they got on the winning way and went on to enjoy a very nice season. The reserve team was made up of sophomores Don Zerial, Dale Seifert, and Leonard Redmond and juniors Mike and Jim Boyazis.

The Boyazis duo was the sparkplug of the team and later on during the season they, accompanied by Don Zerial, moved up to play varsity for the Panthers.

Dale Seifert, a mainstay on the reserve team, injured his knee and was unable to finish the season.



Up we go—shouts D. Berry as he drops in a one-hand shot while the Boyazis brothers look on.

Old boy friend

Found among the visitors at "Holiday Hotel" were many talented students who took part in unique dances, songs, and comedy acts for the 1952 Booster Club Frolics. Especially graceful were the "bevy of beauties" (otherwise known as the senior boys) dressed as Daisy Mae. Another group of dancers with snappy initialed sweaters gave a new interpretation of "Mr. Touchdown." The Dramatic Club took part by giving a skit in which they portrayed playing cards.

Other attractions at the "Holiday Hotel" were: some of India's finest dancing girls, a group of yodelers, Charleston dancers, baton twirlers, vocalists and violinists, not to mention the crazy antics of the stooges, Nancy Adams, Chuck Wooke and Joe Frost. The acts for the show were introduced by Chuck Kistler and Stan Wagy. True to tradition, the Frolics were better than ever.

spring sports

Every year, when spring rolls around, there is a clamor around the school for a lost ball glove, a rusty putter or a worn track shoe. Every boy in Harding gets that lump in his throat and that urge to get out into the open air and take part in some form of athletics.

The baseball player hustles to see Mr. Kemp and display his fine pitch. The boys who think they are good enough to be pros are always bothering Mr. Lafferty for him to watch them whack that golf ball. Mr. Johnson is the consultant if you really feel like running and sense that fine air in your nostrils.

A rare shot of G. Nicula breaking the high school shot put record.
Pulling ahead of his opponent is L. Owen, followed close behind by S. Merolla and J. Stevenson.

D. Venetta comes up quick on the hurdles.

This foursome of Panther Thinclads are the defending district track champions in the 880 yards relay event. They are Salvi Merolla, anchor man and only veteran, Art Cofield, Bob Barbutes, and Jim Rogers.

The Harding track team had two record breakers this season in George Nicula, who smashed the shot put record with a heave of 45 ft. 2⅜ in., and Jack Vair, who threw the discus 130 ft. 8½ in. for a new OSC record.

The team, bolstered by veterans Salvi Meroli, Jim Rogers, James Hightower, Ray Barnes, Bob Barbutes, Art Cofield and Leslie Owens, showed fine form and good coaching in their victories over their opponents.

Mr. Johnson had a fine group on the Sophomore squad to give the boys a lot of competition in John Ayres, Enoch Chaney, Richard Owens, Ralph Dowell, Tulio Belmaggio and John Stevenson.

Future pro, E. DEL GARBINO, represented Harding at Columbus

The 1952 Harding High School Golf Team enjoyed a season of seven victories and they suffered three defeats under the guidance of Mr. Lafferty. The team was fortunate in the weather up until the last game and a misty day at Ravenna for the District Meet.

Gene DelGarbino was the sparkplug of the team, and his brilliant play won him many honors in this area. Gene was the medalist for the district conference in Ravenna, firing a one under par, 69, to cop the honors. He finished second in the Yankee Run Tournament behind Rayen's Ricky Jones.

The team was composed of Nick Hromiko, the only senior, Gene DelGarbino and Drew Baker, juniors, and sophomores Tom Banish, Bob Haas, and Alex Nagy.

Coach Dwight Lafferty was well pleased with the showing of Tom Banish and Bob Haas, two fine sophomores. Bob Haas moved to Buffalo during the summer and Mr. Lafferty will be looking to the fine prospects coming up from the junior high schools.

The Harding diamondmen slugged their way to a record six wins and six losses in the 1952 season. For the third consecutive year Coach L. J. Kemp's crew copped the Ohio Scholastic Conference crown by defeating Alliance, 4-2, and Canton McKinley, 9-8. They were defeated in their bid for state honors by Youngstown Wilson in the district tournament, 8 - 5.

11B VOLLEYBALL CHAMPS

The Girl's Athletic Association, sponsored by Miss Eaton, is for the benefit of all girls who are interested in sports. The sports include basketball, baseball, ping-pong, shuffleboard, and volleyball.

Each day at three o'clock the teams meet in the girl's gym to play their games. Letters are presented to the girls who receive 150 points at the end of the semester.

a sport for every girl

Many girls think that gym's a bore, something that's required for two years. Physical education can be a class eagerly looked forward to. Ask any girl who takes it every day of the week for three years.

September starts the volleyball season. First comes the training, then the game. It is gay fun to get out on the floor and show the other team who is better.

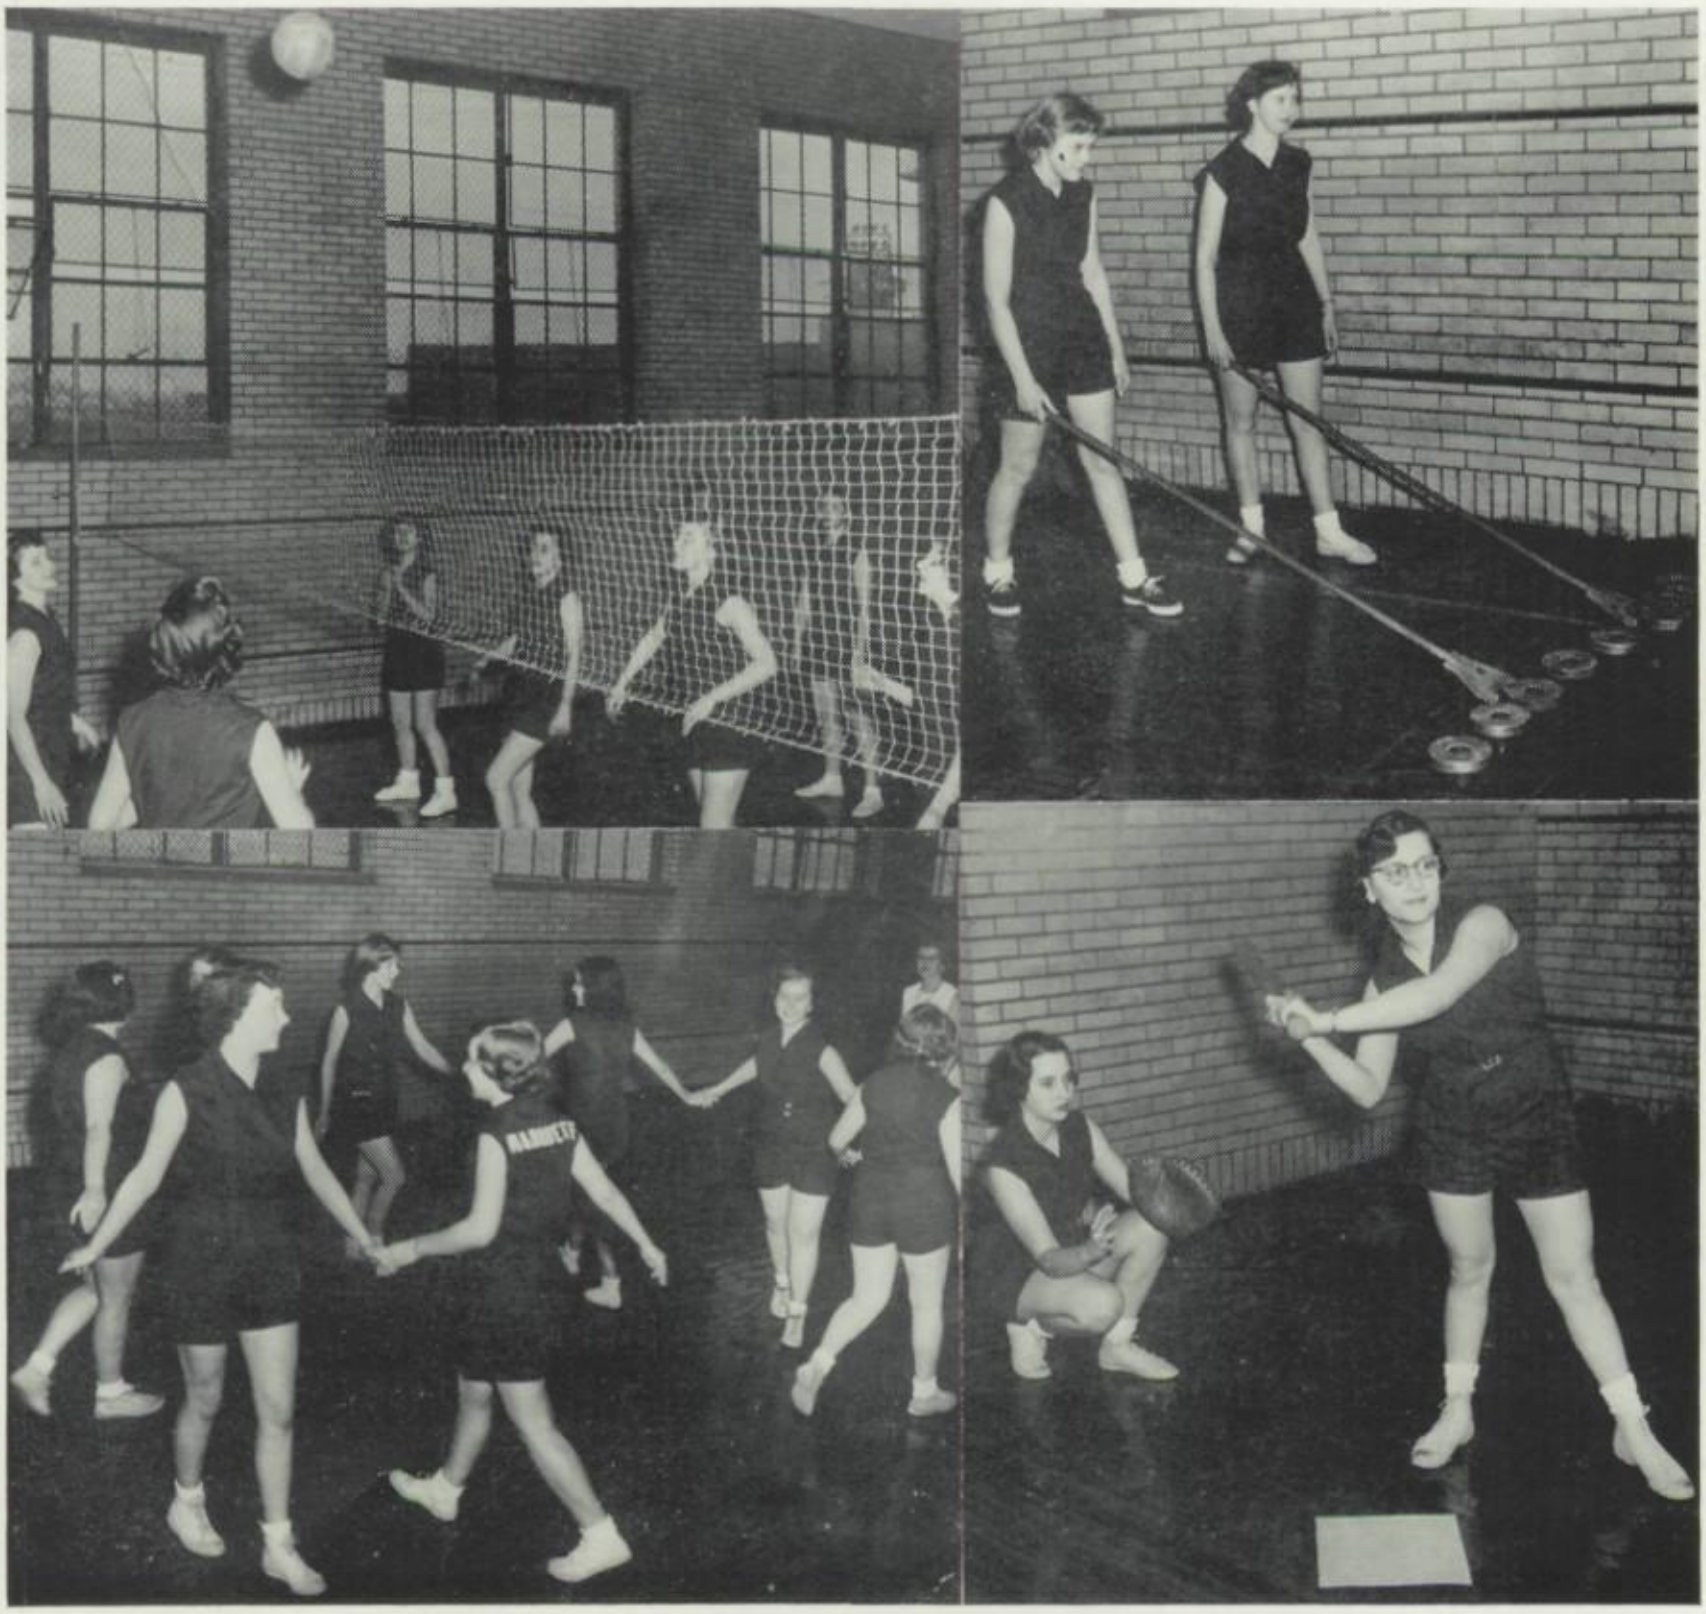
During the winter basketball is the trend. The game goes rapidly and the period is soon over.

Between times, to make things different, one might enjoy a good game of shuffle board or a period of square dancing.

With spring thoughts turn to baseball, America's top sport. On nice days the gym class goes out and bats the ball around. Then the fun starts as teams are chosen for some hot competition.

These are just a few of the games that can be enjoyed in gym class. There are lots more, such as calisthenics, for the girl who likes to bend her bones; marching for those who like rhythm; and exercises for those who have a little excess poundage.

Remember there is a sport for every girl.



spring festival

One of the big social events of the year is the Spring Festival, sponsored by the 11A and 12B classes. Roselyn Armintrout and Martha Loychik were the attendants to the queen. According to tradition, the queen and her escort danced the first dance after the procession and crowning, as did her attendants.

queen of the may

The Spring Festival was a gala affair. To the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," the lovely queen, Lois Harter, and her escort, Charles Shadron, approached the throne. She was preceded by her pages and followed by her attendants, Martha Loychik and Roselyn Armintrout, who were escorted by Norton Stuart and Phil Quartier. At the throne she was met by Paul Tregoning, president of the student body, who placed the crown upon her head.

Every publication has its headaches but also its bright spots. The High Life staff had one when Martin and Lewis agreed to judge the Christmas contest and another when they published the "Rapid" edition for the January Seniors. Melodies floated through room 201 when the Cauldron staff finally settled on the theme, "There's Music in the Air."

Commercialites take many enjoyable as well as informative trips. One of the interesting trips taken this year was a visit to the Youngstown Airport. They toured the buildings and were permitted to inspect a plane that had just landed. They have social affairs also. A weiner roast was enjoyed by the commercial club in the fall.

With headquarters in the cafeteria the January Class was under the leadership of their officers and sponsors. Mrs. Johnson's pleasant disposition coupled with Mr. Kemp's previous experience put the class over many a rough spot. Bob Barbutes not only worked hard as the president of his class but he also earned five sport letters while at Harding. Photography is the favorite pastime of vice president, Ray Wagoner, who was one of the Echoes photographers. The secretary, Marilyn Howell, is interested in commercial subjects, especially typing. Faith Gibson, treasurer, enjoys the out-of-doors with her dog, Pal.

Three boys and two girls captured the honors in the January Class. Both Antoinette Carbone and Harlene Eckels excelled in the commercial department. Two of Mike Cutsumbis' contributions to the school were acting as interpreter for Greek students and operating classroom movies. Being business manager for the Echoes did not prevent Bill Shuttic from participating in many other activities, while handling the P. A. controls was only one of Bob MacLaren's interests while at Harding.

MISS EDNA BAXTER and DONALD BAKER

auditorium big wigs

Handling the affairs of over two hundred students kept the June '53 officers and sponsors on their toes. Under the guidance of Miss Baxter and Mr. Baker prom plans took shape, commencement invitations were ordered and measurements for caps and gowns were taken. When Salvi Merolla presided over class meetings in the auditorium, no one dreamed he would appear as a stooge in the 1953 Frolics. Aside from reading the announcements every morning, Tom Vickers, vice president, also entertained with his guitar. Keeping the attendance records straight was a constant task for secretary, Susie Sullivan, while treasurer, Phyllis Holland, collected money for everything from class dues to prom tickets.

and so there were seven

Because of the unusual circumstance of having many top students close together in their grades, seven June honor students were named instead of the customary three or five.

The second Moran to be named an honor student, Suzie is always on hand with the grease paint backstage at the Dramatic Club plays.

Lois Kelly could have been seen at almost any time of the day in room 201 working her fingers to the bone on Echoes copy or pictures.

All of Miss Lynn's problems classes will recognize Norton Stuart as he takes over the news discussion.

Bill Sprague's greatest interest is science and physics. He's always ready for a new experiment of some sort.

Often Shirley Hoffee can be seen going full speed against the wind on her motorcycle, which is her first love.

Ann Myers and Nancy Heron started playing duets together when they were in grade school. Both get a great deal of enjoyment from their music.

a gay farewell

This year's January prom, "Magnolia Manor," almost had to be changed to "The Gymnasium," when the ceiling failed to arrive on time. Because of this, Saturday morning was spent in a frantic attempt to hide the rafters. Below is the beautifully decorated refreshment table, which was one of the most popular spots of the evening. Miss Ridgley is at the punch bowl. S. Rink and J. Shirey presented programs to all who came to enjoy the evening.

Another sale is chalked up for D. R. Williams as Mr. Mollenkopf purchases a program during the football season. The other eager salesmen are: E. Venetta, P. Arbogast, C. Romelfangen, and S. Rink you said you wouldn't have known what to do in your class without me to pester you. The feeling is doubled. You're frightened many a day for me when I was feeling low. Keep your wonderful personality & sense of humor & you'll make everyone else happy to be with you. Good luck in the future.

Love,
Betty J.

Must write a brief line as I'm loading. So hope we can ride each other Sunday. Best of luck & RRR Henry '53

To Barb,

Although you still give me a rough time, school would not be the same without you. Good luck always,
